

Chad Hughes

Chad is a seasoned pianist and lifelong performer with over 45 years of experience captivating audiences across the country. His musical journey has taken him through a wide range of performances, from full bands and intimate duos to accompanying solo artists, showcasing both his versatility and deep passion for live music.

Throughout his career, Chad has toured extensively, playing in venues of all sizes—from small local stages to large, high-energy productions. A recent career highlight includes performing in Branson, Missouri, where his talent and dedication earned him a nomination for Keyboardist of the Year in 2025. Influenced by iconic rock bands like Journey, Heart, and Bon Jovi, Chad brings a dynamic and authentic energy to every performance. His lifelong admiration for these legendary groups continues to shape his sound and style.

Today, Chad is thrilled to be part of Journey to Jersey, where he channels his experience, passion, and love for classic rock into every show, delivering performances that resonate with audiences of all generations.
